Battles of the Crimean War, a series of military campaigns fought between the British, French, and Sardinian forces against the Russian Empire, from 1853 to 1856. The war was fought on the Crimean Peninsula, a strategic location between the Black Sea and the Mediterranean. The British and their allies fought to prevent Russia from dominating the Black Sea and the Mediterranean. The war was a major turning point in the history of the Crimean Peninsula and the region. It was a bloody and costly conflict that resulted in the deaths of over 200,000 soldiers. The war also had significant political and diplomatic consequences, leading to the Crimean War Treaty of 1856, which ended the war and established a new balance of power in the region.
